The cash-out feature is a way for a bettor to lock-in profit from their sports wager, or minimize their losses.

It's the fourth quarter and Clemson University is losing by a touchdown and don't look like they're going to win.

The ability to wager on a sporting event that has already begun, but has not finished yet.

Chasing losses is always something that gets gamblers in trouble.

Let's say you're betting on an NFL game early in the day and lose that doesn't mean that you should make a bet that's double the amount later on.

All in all, you shouldn't look at gambling as a way to be your primary source of income.
