Punto Banco is one of the most popular casino games both online and live, because it has a very small house edge, meaning that players have a higher chance of winning more money.

Punto Banco is also one of the easiest variations to play because you simply need to choose whether to bet on Punto (Player) or Banco (Bank).

Both player and bank are dealt at least two cards each, with additional cards potentially being necessary.

Meaning, if your total value is 12, then you subtract 10 and your new score is 2.

It can pretty much be found at every online casino in the world, and as you may suspect, the same cannot be said for most other online casino games.

Unlike other casino games like poker or blackjack, it has simple rules that can be learned fairly quickly.

This means that baccarat is particularly attractive to players who are new to online casinos as well as to more experienced players who are just looking for something to play casually.

While most online casinos offer baccarat, it is often tucked away in a corner of the site, and it can often be a little difficult to find.

In contrast, games like slots and roulette are prominently featured and easy to access.

This difference in accessibility could also be a factor in baccarat's lower popularity at online casinos.

Overall, baccarat is a popular online casino game because it is easy to learn, has a low house edge, is stylish and sophisticated, and offers the convenience and flexibility of online play.

It might not be the most popular online casino game out there, but it is most definitely somewhat of an underrated gem.
